Progressing and Advanced Skills in Laparoscopic Surgery

Thursday, 3 July 2025, 08:30-14:00

sponsored by Versavet generously supported by Karl Storz and Surgical Science

Species: Small Animal

Course type: dry lab / seminar

Description This course combines a dry lab course which offers the delegate expert tuition in more advanced laparoscopic techniques including intracorporeal suturing, retraction and placement of haemostatic clips and laparoscopic cholecystectomy.

The lab will include brief tuition presentations, but the time will be dominated by the opportunity to practice the techniques as they have been explained to the registrants, under the tuition of worldclass laparoscopic surgeons. Tuition exercises will include time in both traditional laparoscopic trainers and cutting-edge computed-based trainers.

Lecturers: Federico Massari, DVM, Dipl. ECVS
Manuel Jimenez Pelaez, DVM MRCVS Dipl. ECVS

Number of participants: max. 20
