

We are looking to recruit a Board Certified Veterinary Surgeon based in AniCura Hospital Veterinario Guadamar, Sanlúcar la Mayor, Seville, Spain.

We are a 24-hour referral veterinary hospital located in Seville, Spain. Given our practice's constant expansion, we are looking for a board-certified surgeon to help expand and develop our surgical team in soft tissue surgery, orthopaedics, and neurosurgery. The ideal candidate would be a board-certified surgeon with experience, good communication skills and excellent team worker.

We provide a 7/24hour emergency out-of-hours service as part of the team. Candidates interested in research are encouraged to develop and/or lead research projects during the off-clinics time, and extensive collaborations with other laboratories, institutions and human hospitals are possible.

Job Summary

The position will be supported by a team of twenty-two people and three administrative staff. Hospital Veterinario Guadamar has an onsite CT (will be upgraded to 16 slices in the following months), DR, low-field MRI (also planned to be upgraded to high-field MRI), endoscopy/arthroscopy system, full in-house laboratory, alongside an advanced level of diagnostic facilities and equipment. The position has significant teaching activity for vets and technicians as the hospital collaborates with several universities, companies, and other practices.

Our caseload is dynamically growing yearly; consequently, a full-time position is offered with a competitive salary depending upon experience and a variable annual bonus based on objectives.

Being a team player is mandatory for this position as well as having a strong customer focus. Additionally, we believe that our position is an opportunity to develop further, both medically and personally.
